

Who's Next
Eliminators
Reviewed 5/23/23

Actions to stop doing:

- Team members should stop working on their local branches without pulling recent changes to main, as this can cause merge conflicts and confusion between members
- Members should stop creating duplicate code to account for edge cases, as this results in messy, confusing, and more buggy code.
- The team should stop forgetting to update the notion after completing their user stories

Actions to start doing:

- All members should start quickly reviewing pull requests on github as soon as they are posted to increase the rate at which user stories are officially completed.

Actions to keep doing:

- Team should keep being consistent with their naming and code style conventions to keep the project clean, readable, and more easily added to

Work Completed	Not completed
I am a user, I want to create a match, so that I can play the game [5]
I am a user, I want to join a match, so I can play the game [4]
I am a user, I want to access my profile settings, so that I can change my app/user settings. [2]
	I am a user, I want to be able to view my target, so that I know who to eliminate [4]
	I am a user of Who's Next, I want to eliminate a player, so that I can gain points [5]

Total number of user stories completed: 3
Total number of estimated ideal work hours: 45
Total number of days during the prior sprint: 14
User stories/day: 0.2
Ideal work hours/day figures: 3.25 hours per day

Burnup Charts:

