High Level Goals

Who's Next would be a mobile app for a location independent version of the social game Assassin. Rules for assassin from wikipedia: https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Assassin\_\(game\))

I would like the app to be location independent and focus on supporting smaller groups. The targets would be updated after each elimination or at the end of one week (for example). There would be a leaderboard and a scoring system to facilitate the leaderboard scores for each group. Eliminations would be determined by a confirmation push notification from the "assassin" (name in progress) to their target.
